Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Status of Claims

1. This action is responsive to the pre-appeal brief review request filed on March 24, 2006.

Prosecution has been re-opened. Claims 1-20 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1,2,7,8,12-17,19 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Masters (U.S. Patent No. 6,374,300).

4. In reference to claims 1,13 and 17, Masters teaches a method and apparatus for re-directing a client session, comprising:

receiving a request from a client terminal at a load balancer (column 10 lines 30-33);

selecting one of a plurality of gateways being managed by the load balancer to process the request (column 10 lines 31-35); sending a re-direct message to the client terminal from the load balancer, the re-direct message including information identifying the selected gateway (column 10 lines 40-50).

Art Unit: 2157

5. In reference to claim 2, Masters teaches the method of Claim 1 wherein the information identifying the selected gateway may include a private port number associated with the selected gateway (column 7 lines 10-15).

6. In reference to claim 7, Masters teaches the method of Claim 1, further comprising: maintaining an association between the client terminal and the selected gateway at the load balancer (column 9 lines 1-45).

7. In reference to claim 8, Masters teaches the method of Claim 1, wherein the information identifying the selected gateway includes an Internet Protocol address of the selected gateway (column 7 lines 10-15).

8. In reference to claim 12, Masters teaches the method of Claim 1, further comprising: maintaining an association between the client terminal and the selected gateway (column 9 lines 1-45).

9. In reference to claim 14, Masters teaches the apparatus of Claim 13 wherein the information identifying the selected gateway may include a private port number associated with the selected gateway (column 7 lines 10-15).

10. In reference to claim 15, Masters teaches the method of Claim 13, wherein the information associated with the selected gateway is an Internet Protocol address of the selected gateway (column 7 lines 10-15).

11. In reference to claim 16, Masters teaches the apparatus of Claim 13, further comprising: means for maintaining an association between the client terminal and the selected gateway (column 9 lines 1-45).

Art Unit: 2157

12. In reference to claim 19, Masters teaches the apparatus of Claim 17, wherein the load balancer maintains an association between the client terminal and the selected gateway (column 9 lines 1-45).

13. In reference to claim 20, Masters teaches the apparatus of Claim 17, wherein the information identifying the selected gateway includes one of a private port number associated with the selected gateway and an Internet Protocol address of the selected gateway (column 7 lines 10-15).

Allowable Subject Matter

14. Claims 3-6,9-11 and 18 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

15. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The following inventive concept is not taught by the prior art of record, and is therefore found to be novel: receiving at the load balancer from the client terminal a subsequent request associated with the re-direct message, the subsequent request including the private port number associated with the selected gateway; and translating at the load balancer the private port number associated with the selected gateway to a defined port number of the selected gateway.

Conclusion

16. Applicant is advised that the above specified citations of the relied upon prior art are only representative of the teachings of the prior art, and that any other supportive sections within the entirety of the reference (including any figures, incorporation by references, and claims) is implied as being applied to teach the scope of the claims.
